

Louisville Evening Express.

LD SERIES--VOL. XXV.

LOUISVILLE, FRIDAY EVENING, AUGUST 6, 1869.

NEW SERIES--VOL. I, NO. 93

DAILY WEATHER BULLETIN.

By Western Union Telegraph Lines for Aug. 6, 9 A. M.

CITIES.	TEMP.	WIND.	WEATHER.
Louisville.	74	N W	Hazy.
Nashville.	74	N W	Clear.
Memphis.	82	S E	Clear.
Cincinnati.	82	S E	Clear.
St. Louis.	75	N W	Cloudy.
Pittsburg.	67	S E	Clear.
Chicago.	66	S E	Cloudy.
Dubuque.	66	S E	Cloudy.
Hallfax.	41	E	Raining.
Portland.	44	N W	Clear.
Boston.	63	N W	Clear.
New York.	65	N E	Clear.
St. Monroe.	68	N E	Clear.
Buffalo.	63	N E	Clear.
Jackson.	63	N E	Pleasant.
St. Louis.	84	S W	Clear.
St. Paul.	84	S W	Clear.
Philadelphia.	88	N	Clear.
San Francisco.	70	N	Clear.
Natash.	81	S W	Clear.
Shreveport.	81	—	Clear.
Vicksburg.	81	—	Cloudy.
Houston.	84	—	Clear.
Charleston.	86	N E	Clear.
Baltimore.	86	N	Clear.
Key West.	85	—	Clear.
Havana.	85	—	None.
Angeles.	84	—	Hazy.
Washington.	85	N W	Hazy.
N. Orleans.	84	W	Cloudy.

THE CITY.

Was it Complimentary?

A dark brass band serenaded a Fourth-street merchant, at his residence last night. They mistook his house for that of a colored preacher.

A Louisville Dead.

Geo. W. Cunningham, formerly of Louisville, died suddenly of heart disease in Henderson, Ky., on Tuesday. He was buried with Masonic honors.

Eclipse Glasses.

Klauber, the enterprising photographer of Market street, has prepared glasses for the eclipse on Saturday. They are just the thing and cheap at dirt—five cents a glass.

Street Cleaning.

The street-cleaning brigades of the Eastern and Western districts will be out in full force raking and scraping the loose soil accumulated by the rains of yesterday, as soon as the sun makes its appearance.

Shell Oysters at the St. Charles.

Phil Lotich, with his usual enterprise, announces oysters in the shell—the first of the season. They are delicious and almost as fresh as when taken from the briny ocean, and will make epicurean mouths water.

A Great Rain.

Reports from the interior and along the line of the Ohio river advise us that the late rain was general. It will exercise a general influence on the growing crops, which were sadly in need of it. The corn crop north of the Cumberland otherwise would have been very short.

The Doctors.

Our friends, the people's friends, the Doctors, held another meeting last night. A special committee was appointed on the "code" who will report hereafter. As the calm comes after the storm, so last night the proceedings were moderate and conducted in excellent temper.

Thieves in New Albany.

The thieves of New Albany, having stolen everything from the moral citizens of that suburb that they could find worth stealing, in the houses, have now commenced to carry away such outside articles as bees, chickens, garden "truck," &c. The thieves have things pretty much their own way over there, as in Madison.

I. O. G. T.

At a regular meeting of Golden Gate Lodge, No. 217, I. O. G. T., held at their hall, on Eighth street, between Jefferson and Green, on Sunday afternoon, August 1, 1869, the following officers were installed to serve the ensuing term: Ben. F. Cawthon, W. C. T. John M. Farrar, W. V. T. F. Dickson Price, W. S. C. Hoover, W. A. S. Thos. T. Baldwin, W. M. Henry C. Metcalfe, W. F. S. W. S. Condey, W. T. Henry Farrar, W. I. G. John J. Farrar, W. O. G. Jas. Lee, P. W. C. T. Jas. Ruddle, W. C.

The Minstrels.

In spite of the threatening aspect of the weather last evening, Weisger Hall was filled almost to overflowing with the lovers of good music and rare comedy, last night. The Newcombs are enjoying one of the most successful seasons of minstrelsy ever played in our city. The audience encircled Joe Emmett last night as long as he was able to shake his wooden brooms, or reach the key of G in his inimitable Lingard songs and dances. He is pronounced by all who see and hear him to be the "immense" actor of his kind that ever visited Louisville. Joseph takes a farewell benefit to-night. Let it be "for Joseph" to receive a bumper. He deserves to be largely patronized by the public, for whose pleasure and amusement he labors so assiduously. Reserved seats can be secured at the music house of Will. S. Hays, Fourth street.

Tobacco and Cotton.

The shipments of tobacco East over the Jeffersonville railroad have fallen off somewhat in the past week. A large portion of the crop of last year has been marketed, but the tobacco movement by river and rail will continue pretty lively until the middle of September. So far the present season the Jeffersonville road has carried several thousand hogsheads more of Eastern bound tobacco than have been shipped by other and competing routes.

We understand that the Jeffersonville road will make special rates and liberal arrangements for the shipment of cotton East during the coming cotton season. This road is managed with the most liberal enterprise, and its rapidly increasing business is the best evidence of its popularity.

SHARP SCAMP.

He Forges an Order for $798, Obtains the Money, and Goes to Ireland.

A Troubled Conscience Brings Him Back to America—He Gives Himself Up to New York Detectives.

Detective Bligh returned from New York this morning, having in custody a man named Patrick Joyce, who, in November last, forged an order on William Jackson, of this city, for $798. The particulars of the transaction are substantially about as follows:

William Jackson, who had for some time been engaged in business in Colorado, returned to this city in November last. Patrick Joyce was at that time a resident of Louisville. Jackson was an uncle of Patrick's wife, and the two men were very intimate and very friendly toward each other—in fact, they were entirely too friendly for the welfare of both, as the sequel will prove. Jackson had a draft on a New Orleans bankinghouse for $798. Patrick, being well acquainted in the city, took William to the Planters' National Bank, on Main street, for the purpose of obtaining money for the draft. The document was left with the cashier, who engaged to arrange for the payment of the draft. He at once sent word to the firm in New York upon whom the draft had been drawn. The reply was that it was all correct, and, of course, the bank here was then ready to make the payment. In the meantime Patrick had kept posted as to the earliest time payment could be made by the Planters' Bank. He therefore called at the bank and asked for the money. The cashier informed him that Mr. Jackson would have to give his personal acknowledgment that the proceeding was authorized by him. Patrick told the cashier that Jackson was sick and could not go to the bank. Patrick was then requested to give a written order from Jackson for the money, certified to by a well-known person as witness. Patrick left the bank, and after a short time returned with an order bearing the name of Jackson, and witnessed by Mrs. Susan Joyce, Patrick's wife. The money was handed over and Patrick left. He was not heard from again until a few days since, when a dispatch was received from the Chief of Police at New York, stating that a man named Patrick Joyce had voluntarily given himself into custody there, and alleged that he had forged an order on a gentleman named Jackson, of this city, and had obtained on it the sum of $798. The New York authorities were instructed to hold Patrick, and Detective Bligh was sent to New York by the Planters' National Bank of this city, to bring Patrick forthwith to Louisville. Mr. Bligh, as stated above, arrived with his prisoner this morning. Patrick proves to be the Patrick desired, and who, last November, forged the names of William Jackson and Susan Joyce to the order upon which the money was drawn from the Planters' bank.

Patrick says he took the first train for New York after procuring the money, and arriving in that city, took the first outgoing steamer that sailed for Liverpool. Arriving at the last named city, he made his way to Ireland at once, taking an extended tour over the Emerald Isle, and having a good time generally, for a while, among his old countrymen. But, he says, notwithstanding the enormity of the crime he had committed, he never entirely lost his conscience—that when he tried to forget the wrongs he had done his old friend in America, remorse and misery overcame his sinful desires, and the better impulses of his heart urged him to return to the land from which he had fled, and make at least some reparation as he could to his family and friend for his cruelty to them. Hence, he took a steamer for New York, intending to proceed at once from that city to Louisville. But, during the voyage, the wicked desires which had led him to the commission of his greatest act of lawlessness, took possession of his heart, and he succumbed to them. Arriving in America, he went over into New Jersey, where he obtained some kind of employment, and remained for some weeks. He says the old feelings of remorse and repentance returned with renewed force, and he finally resolved to go over to New York, and there give himself into the custody of the police detectives, relate the story of his crime, and abide the consequences, as his heart was so full of bitterness and sorrow that he could no longer bear such torture of conscience. Patrick will receive the benefit of an investigation of his case, and, if his repentance is genuine and substantial, it is to be hoped he will be leniently dealt with.

We published an account of a tragedy in New Orleans lately, where Carrie Kipper's lover, Salador Carlotte, attempted to assassinate her. The woman steadily refused to make a complaint against him, and when placed on the witness stand stubbornly refused to testify. She said she would stay in prison twenty years before she would answer. There being no testimony against Carlotte the Recorder was forced to discharge the prisoner.

Exonerated. The testimony before the City Court this morning fully exonerated Policeman Burke of any blame for his action in the difficulty on the cars, reported the other day. Burke was only attempting to do his duty.

Religious. The Presbyterians of the West End are raising a subscription for the purpose of erecting a new church edifice in the neighborhood of Twenty-first and Chestnut streets. A lot has been donated for the above purpose by Mr. Ferguson, one of the most liberal and charitable gentlemen in the West End.

Information Wanted. Mrs. Spillman, who lives in Cincinnati, has written a letter to Mayor Bunce, informing that worthy functionary that her husband, Thomas Spillman, who is a cripple, belongs to the Grand Army of the Republic, and plays a hand organ for support, and a cripple at that, we advise her to let Thomas go; she would probably get along better without him.

Policeman's Badge Lost. While officer Antle was engaged in a little muscular exercise with Edward Bassett, yesterday, he lost his badge. The finder will confer a favor by leaving it at police headquarters; it is numbered 31.

LOUISVILLE CITY COURT. HON. E. S. CRAIG, JUDGE. FRIDAY, AUGUST 6. The coming eclipse is the topic that now occupies every one's mind, and the chilly darkness of this morning seems to forebode the gloom that will overcast the Heavens to-morrow evening. The Judge seemed to partake of the surrounding gloominess, and the unusual silence that pervaded the court room, with its full complement of barristers and attorneys, indicated an approach to the solemn.

THE GREAT ECLIPSE.

Some Interesting Facts Touching the Phenomenon.

The unusual event of a total eclipse of the Sun will be witnessed to-morrow evening by a portion of the people of the United States. The phenomenon is, indeed, common enough, if it is simply to occur somewhere on the earth. But that it is very rare when confined to a particular place or country may be illustrated by the following facts: The celebrated astronomer, Halley, computed in 1715 that up to that date no total eclipse of the Sun had occurred at London for a period of 575 years. And since that date none has occurred at that place. At Paris, during the eighteenth century, but one total eclipse of the Sun was seen, that of 1724; and during the nineteenth century none has been, or will be, seen.

We are told by astronomers of Washington that "no total eclipse of the sun has been visible in any considerable portion of this country since 1834, and none will be visible after this year during the present century." Thus it appears that more persons living in the United States have had a view of Niagara Falls, or of the Mammoth Cave, or of the Natural Bridge of Virginia, than have ever witnessed the grand astronomical phenomenon of a total eclipse of the sun. And by far the great majority of the people of the United States will be unable to witness the great total eclipse of this year, for in most parts of the country the eclipse is only partial, though unusually large.

Instead of waiting patiently at their observatories for the eclipse to approach them, which we have seen it will take some centuries to do, the astronomers have acquired the habit of taking their observatories to the line of the total eclipse. The total eclipse of to-morrow is visible along a track about one hundred and forty miles wide, and more than six thousand miles long. When this track is laid down on a map, throughout its whole extent, it looks like a narrow ribbon, stretching across North America and a portion of Asia. It begins in Siberia, where it takes a northeasterly course, till it crosses a little south of Behring's Straits, after which it turns its course southeasterly, traversing portions of our new territory of Alaska; thence into British America, and through Montana, Dakota, Nebraska, Iowa, Missouri, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Tennessee and North Carolina. It ends in the Atlantic Ocean, off the coast of the last mentioned State. All places situated on the central line of this track will have the sun totally obscured for a period varying from 2m. 33s. to 3m. 47.3s., according to geographical position. Places situated on the borders of the track, or about 70 miles on either side of the central line, will have the sun just covered completely for an instant; and the duration of the total phase will be greater the nearer the place is to the central line. Outside of the track of total phase, on the northern side, only a partial eclipse of the sun's southern limb, and on the south side of the track a partial eclipse of the northern limb will be seen. But the duration and magnitude of the partial eclipse will be greater in proportion as the place of observation is nearer the borders of the track of total phase.

Perhaps some curious reader, who has not looked very closely into his treatise on astronomy, or who may have long since forgotten all about it, may wish to know what is the cause of the total phenomenon being restricted to the comparatively narrow track which we have described. Allow us to refresh his memory. The rays of light coming from the extreme borders of the sun's spherical body, in straight lines, and without previously crossing, to the outer borders of the moon's much smaller globe, form a cone with its vertex pointed toward the earth—that is, on the occasion of an eclipse like that which will be witnessed to-morrow. Of course, the opaque body of the moon cuts out all the light from this cone between her own sphere and the vertex. In the approaching eclipse this cone reaches to the nearest surface of the earth; and, if it were a material solid body, it would pierce down to the earth's center so far that the section of the cone by the earth's surface forms nearly a circle of about 140 miles in diameter.

We learn from these appearances that the brightness of the Sun and its atmosphere is decidedly variable, and so, also, probably its heat and its electrical influence. These phenomena, as well as all others of special interest, are best seen when the Sun is high above the horizon, at the moment of its total eclipse. To persons so situated to secure this condition, there is also a chance of their being able to catch a glimpse of the zodiacal light, and of the small planets which are supposed by Le Verrier to circulate between Mercury and the Sun, but which have never yet been seen.

Astronomers will note scientifically the appearance of Mercury; but they will look with much greater anxiety for their worlds, as yet unseen by mortal vision. It was announced some ten years ago that certain observed changes in the position of the orbit of Mercury were probably due to the attraction of a number of smaller bodies revolving in an orbit between him and the sun. The causes which prevent Mercury from being seen operate still more disadvantageously in regard to these interior planets (if such these be), and there is no hope of gazing upon them other than with the eye of faith, except at the time of a total eclipse. The light of the sun being then cut off by the interposition of the moon's body, it is quite possible that the existence of these new hypothetical worlds will be revealed through the telescope. It is thought probable that there are about four of these bodies, but their number may be "legion."

The area to be observed will be but small—since they will necessarily be seen within, about 15 degrees of the sun in longitude, and within about 3 degrees of the ecliptic line, on either side. Unless seen near the limit of 15 degrees they may be easily distinguished by the telescopic observer from the fixed stars, as the motion in the orbit is rapid enough to give a sensible change of place during the time of observation. Should such planets be discovered, the fact will be a memorable one in astronomical annals.

The search for new planets will be a new branch of investigation during a solar eclipse; but there is also a problem, partially solved, to which many astronomers will bend all their energies. The light of the sun has been often examined by instruments constructed for the purpose, in order to find out, if possible, the material of which it is composed, and especially to ascertain if there is any ground for the belief that the sun and earth are of one common origin.

The strangeness of the appearance of things on the earth's surface during the eclipse will vary widely with the place of observation. In places where the atmosphere is overcast there will be no perceptible difference, except an undesirable rawness or chilliness in the air, and nothing to note the time when the sun is shut out from the sight of more privileged mortals. Where clouds obscure the vision they are generally rain clouds, and the rain is usually of a drizzly character; it seldom falls in large drops. In places where the sky is clear, the air may be expected to cool off somewhat previous to the observed time of contact, and the animals show their premonitions of the unusual event by various strange motions. During the totality of the eclipse fowls have been observed to go to roost, and the birds of the air to fall to the earth as if struck by a stone, doubtless from fright at the sudden change; while beasts have become perfectly panic-stricken, and manifested the most abject terror.

In places where the eclipse is total (and visible) the sky will grow gradually dark, and surrounding objects become invested with a weird black or copper color, and the moon's edge will be marked by a pale circle, which was formerly thought to be due to the passage of the solar rays through her atmosphere, but is now known to belong to the solar body. The latter is called the "corona" or crown, from its resemblance to the halo often represented in pictures around the heads of saints.

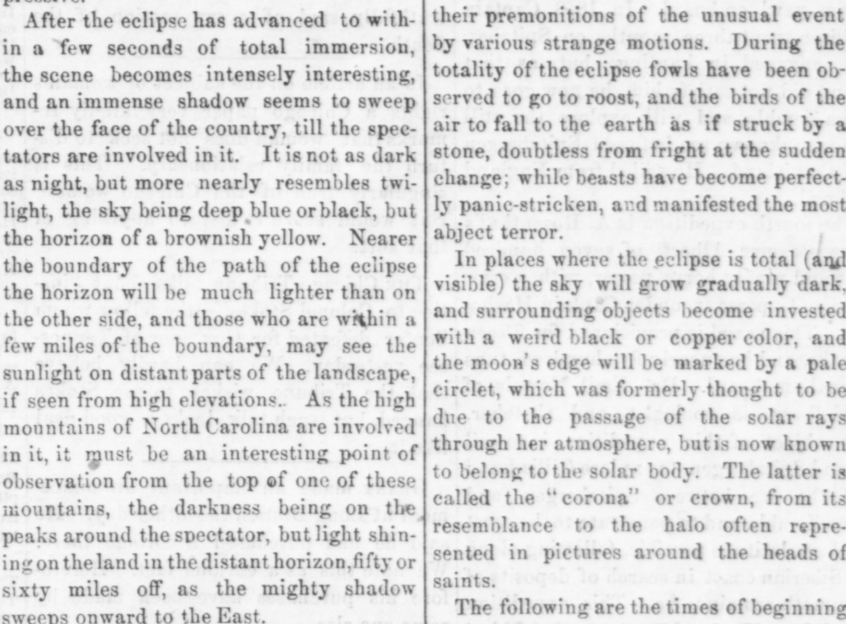

The following are the times of beginning and end of the total eclipse for Kentucky:

Place.	Beginning.	Ending.
Louisville.	4 24 P. M.	6 21 P. M.
Shelbyville.	4 27 46 P. M.	6 23 24 P. M.

The following are the times of beginning and end of total phase:

Place.	Beginning.	Ending.
Louisville.	5 23 57	5 31 32
Shelbyville.	5 26 33	5 34 08
Shelbyville.	5 26 33	5 34 08
Danville.	5 28 32	5 36 07
Frankfort.	5 27 07	5 34 42
Lexington.	5 30 00	5 37 35
Barstonsville.	5 32 00	5 39 35

Through the telescope, the appearances are extraordinary. Within two minutes of the total darkness, the sun appears like a thin crescent, the line becoming more and more broken up as it advances (as shown in figure 2), owing to the irregular edge of the moon and its mountains. When entirely hid, a beautiful faint crown of light surrounds the moon, and through the telescope faint streaks like jets of flame are seen protruding from the edge (fig. 3.)

Andrew Johnson. He Defies the Ruffians and Concludes his Speech.

A DISGRACEFUL SCENE. From the Knoxville Press and Herald, 3d. Mr. Johnson left yesterday morning for Maryville, to fill his appointment, which had been made by the request of a large number of the citizens of Blount county.

Mr. Johnson commenced speaking at a quarter after eleven. He had not spoken but a few minutes until a few of the roughs commenced the work which had been laid out for them by the mobocracy that has so long disgraced Maryville and all good citizens who reside in that vicinity. Their first demonstrations were made by drunken yells and groans, which were not noticed by the attentive audience, who were listening to the truths being uttered by the speaker.

A MOB. The disorganizers, finding that their first efforts were fruitless, concentrated their forces and attempted a more bold and daring game, which at first indicated that the affair would result seriously, with the loss of life and a general fight. The mob gave a yell, uttered a number of horrid oaths, and moved toward the stand. A man by the name of Snider mounted one of the seats which had been provided, and attempted to stop the demons from their hellish designs. Mr. Snider reached for his repeater, but was knocked down by the crowd. He was immediately rescued by his friends who presented a bold front to the riotous demons, and caused them to retreat to their corner, which they had early selected at a short distance from the stand occupied by the speaker. From this point, at intervals, would ooze out their drunken oaths. Once they called to them a colored man, who happened to be passing by, and tried to get him to join the mob, but failed with him as they had previously done with another, their intended tool considering them beneath his notice, and too contemptible and degraded to associate with.

THE LEADERS OF THE MOB. Failing in all their efforts to drive the speaker from the stand and an attentive audience from the grounds, some of the most prominent leaders, who were in a drunken condition and urged forward by the leading members of the Maryville League, incited them once more to the front.

Among the most prominent members of the mob, whose names we could learn, were Emerson, John Pella, Mathew Gardner, Old Gardner, John Smith and others, who were as dirty and drunken as the first named.

ANOTHER RUSH FOR THE STAND. They moved again toward the stand with their hideous yells, cursing and uttering oaths that Blount county should not be disgraced by a traitor, and they would be d—d if they wanted to hear such cussed treason. Stokes was their man.

Mr. Johnson continued his speech for three hours and a half to an attentive audience, who were disgusted at the conduct of the mob, and regretted the insult which had been offered to an invited guest by the offshoots of Blount county and the outcasts of decent society.

THE CROWD. There were from twelve to fifteen hundred persons present, and a majority of them listened with profound attention to the remarks of the speaker. Among the number present were about forty colored men, who, with one or two exceptions, gave the speaker an attentive hearing and conducted themselves in a respectable and orderly way.

ANOTHER ATTEMPT AT VIOLENCE. Toward the close of Mr. Johnson's address a small party of the rioters attempted to drive a negro to go upon the stand and pull the speaker off, telling him that they would back him in it and see him through, but this effort was fruitless like the rest.

After this last attempt to drive the speaker from the stand, the rowdies dispersed and let him continue his speech without further interruption.

The address of Mr. Johnson was one of the most able he ever made, and will do much good in that locality.

This is the first time that Mr. Johnson has been interfered with since his return to Tennessee, and the outrage is deplored by all the respectable citizens of Blount county.

THE KNOXVILLE WHIP'S ACCOUNT. After giving a synopsis of Mr. Johnson's speech, the Whip says:

Imperialism and its organ was alluded to as being the exponent of the bondholder's policy. Mr. Johnson read extracts from the Imperialist to sustain his deductions. Although he had been interrupted throughout his entire speech, he had borne it with remarkable equanimity, and had not ceased speaking, but at this point he was compelled to desist. Yells for Stokes and personal abuse of the speaker were loudly uttered by persons on the outskirts, who were chiefly composed of drunken scoundrels, urged on by the most desperate members of the Stokes faction, who had from the first determined to prevent the speaking, and, failing in that, to break it up in a row, if possible. These demonstrations evoked derisive groans from some of the Conservatives, which resulted in a personal rencontre between Mr. Singleton, a Conservative, and Mr. Phelps, a strong Radical (as we learn from the account), causing the crowd to swell and surge like forest trees in a gale. Pistols were attempted to be drawn, but, by the determined efforts of the friends of both parties, the disturbance was quelled.

Being loudly called on to resume, Mr. Johnson, who had never left the stand, began where he had left off, and no longer was the disturbance which had just occurred. He contrasted the days of Washington and Jefferson, to the present. Mr. Johnson dwelt at length on national affairs, and was twice interrupted, each case resulting almost in a row. Amid the excitement he stood as calm as if no danger had menaced him. The cries of "take him down!" "shoot him!" and others as violent though couched in language too indecent for repetition, were met with glances of cold defiance. He was a man of marble, save that his eyes flashed with unutterable resolve. He had marked out the course he would follow, and he was determined to protect him at all hazards, and when the third effort at intimidation was thwarted, the enemy gave up the attempt in disgust and despair.

We conversed with several gentlemen—Radicals and Conservatives—on the features of the scene, and all were satisfied at the orderly conduct, we believe it is doing the former party no more than justice when we say we believe the thinking men of the former party regret the outrages more than their opponents.

Exciting Scene in a Theater—Narrow Escape of Miss Schneider. Much consternation was created in St. James' Theater, London, July 21, by an occurrence of a very alarming nature. Towards the close of Offenbach's "Orpheus aux Enfers," the height of the effect of the scene, a quantity of colored fire was burned on the stage. Miss Schneider, having approached too near one of the trays of the burning composition, her dress ignited, and in an instant she was enveloped in flames.

An eye-witness thus describes the painfully thrilling scene:

"In the last scene of 'Orpheus aux Enfers' occurs the apotheosis of Eurydice. With Jupiter on one side and Plato on the other, she stands on a pedestal, as ascending to the clouds, surrounded by flames and lightning. In an instant one of these flames flashes back and strikes the skirts of Miss Schneider's dress. A spasm of horror shot through the house. The tarlatan blazed so suddenly that her companions on the pedestal had scarcely realized what had happened, when with a shriek she sprang from between them on to the stage. The leap was not without effect, at least twelve feet. The actors closed round her, but she broke from them. Jupiter caught her, and with his mantle, which he had torn from his shoulders, attempted to stifle the flame. As an opening occurred in the crowd, I could see the prima donna struggling on the stage, on fire, and almost without any dress left."

"Some gentlemen sprang from the pit boxes and assisted in throwing coats, or whatever came to hand, about her. Just then the curtain was dropped out. It seemed an age before it rose again. It was pushed about by the assistants in the exciting scene behind it, while noise and screams were heard. A few of the actors came before it and tried to calm the audience, to satisfy whose anxiety the curtain was again drawn up, and Miss Schneider was seen, half fainting, and recumbent on their arms. She had yet sufficient presence of mind to bow with the sweetest and most tremulous smile I ever beheld, to reassure the audience, who, standing up, bursting into thunders of congratulatory applause. Medical assistance was present, remedies were instantly supplied, and so successfully that I was informed Miss Schneider would be able to play to-morrow night. The prima donna left the theater in about an hour after the accident for her residence in St. John's Wood. The escape is most wonderful. The Bacchante's dress was quite burned away, the skirt even was almost destroyed. Yet fortunately Miss Schneider has received only some scorches, which give no apprehension of any dangerous consequences."

Defeated. We learn that the proposition to subscribe $150,000 additional stock, by Henderson county, to the E. H. and N. R. R. was defeated day before yesterday. At present, the prospect for the completion of that road is not at all flattering.—Evansville (Ind.) Courier.

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

TENNESSEE.

Result of the Election Yesterday.

Senter Elected by 40,000 Majority.

NASHVILLE, August 5.—The city is wild with enthusiasm to-night over the election news. Special dispatches to the Banner from nearly every county in the State indicate that Senter's majority will reach nearly fifty thousand. The Legislature will undoubtedly stand about two-thirds Conservative, and this may be presumed to guarantee Andy Johnson's or Emerson Etheridge's election to the United States Senate. Etheridge will be sent to the State Senate by an overwhelming majority.

East Tennessee, which, it is supposed, would go largely for Stokes, will give a close vote. Stokes' majority there will not reach over a couple of thousand. Knoxville gives over 500 for Senter.

The dispatches from every point indicate that a more peaceful election was never held in Tennessee. As far as heard from, a single disturbance did not occur at any point. The conservative majority, returning the full conservative ticket to the Legislature. The city is close on account of large numbers of negroes having flocked in from the districts. There was not even a fistfight light in Nashville to-day. A number of negroes were arrested and placed in jail for illegal voting.

An immense crowd is collected in front of the Banner office to-night, and yell their delight as the dispatches are read out to them. Prospective Radicalism was effectually laid out in Tennessee to-day, and the disfranchised masses are everywhere shouting their hosannas of redemption.

Budd Carter, a notorious horse-thief and murderer, broke jail at Crossville, Cumberland county, on Tuesday night, and, collecting a small band of men, went over into White county and kidnapped Wm. Hill, a prominent citizen, whom they carried to the mountains and sent back word that if a ransom of $2,000 was not forthcoming, Hill would be killed. The money was made up and left at the place designated. No news as to Hill's safety has yet been received.

NASHVILLE, August 5.—The election in this city to-day passed quietly. No disturbance of any kind occurred. Business houses were generally closed so as to give those employed in them an opportunity to work at the polls. The vote is full and the largest ever given. Returns not yet in. The vote is close, probably 100 majority in the city for Senter. The country districts go almost unanimously for Senter and will swell his majority to 1,500. Partial returns from other counties as follows:

Washington—Senter's majority 300.

Bradley—Senter 700, Stokes 570.

Gibson—Humboldt precinct, 400 for Senter.

Maury—Spring Hill precinct, 155 majority for Senter.

Obion—Union City precinct—Senter, 505; Stokes, 50.

Hamilton—Chattanooga, two to one for Senter.

Coffee—Tullahoma, 192 for Senter, 43 for Stokes.

Bedford—Stokes' majority at Shelbyville, 192.

Weakly—Senter's majority in three districts, 611. Majority in the county will be about 2,000.

Giles—Senter's majority, 1,500.

D. C. Slaughter, ex-Emerson Etheridge, Edmond Cooper and the State Senate in their respective districts.

The full vote of Nashville is Senter 1,372, Stokes 1,380. In the county districts give Senter 1,500 majority. Returns from the districts will increase Senter's majority to 2,000.

Montgomery—Senter's majority 1,200. Conservative legislative ticket elected.

Madison—Senter's majority in this county most of the negroes voted the Conservative ticket, which is elected.

Knox—Senter's majority in Knoxville 500. In the county Senter's majority 1,500.

Williamson—Senter's majority 2,000.

Gibson—Senter's majority in two precincts 981. County will go from 5,500 to 4,000 majority for Senter.

Sullivan—Seven districts give Senter 1,069, Stokes 105. Majority in the county will be about 1,500.

Robinson county—Senter's majority 2,000.

Haywood—Senter's majority 200.

Sumner—Senter's majority 2,500.

Henry—Senter's majority 1,500.

Humphrey—Senter's majority in two precincts 275.

McMinn—Senter's majority 100.

Hampton—Senter's majority 277, with ten precincts to hear from.

Marion—Shelbourn precinct, 105 for Senter, Stokes none.

The returns show that Senter has carried Middle and West Tennessee by a sweeping majority, and, making allowances for Stokes' probable majority in the State, the State by 35,000 to 30,000. The Conservative tickets for the Legislature have been elected in all the districts carried by Senter, and it is probable that the Conservatives will have a majority in both branches.

MEMPHIS, Aug. 5.—The election passed off unusually quiet, the saloons being closed and business generally suspended. Semi-official reports place Senter's majority in this county at three thousand, and Democratic candidates for the Legislature even larger.

Germania gives Senter 1,000, Stokes 4.

Jackson gives Senter 350 majority in a vote of 1,217.

Returns are coming in slowly. Passengers from Moscow state that a drunken colored man was shot and killed, during which a general row ensued, during which a colored man was shot and killed, but fortunately no one was hurt.

Part of a company of the Fourteenth Infantry arrived here this morning from Humboldt to assist in keeping the peace, but their services were not required.

The Avalanche special gives the following returns:

Hardeman county—Senter's majority 1,000.

McKenzie—Three districts in Carroll county give Senter 574, Stokes 5.

Milan—Senter 340, Stokes 306.

Trevelant—Three precincts give Senter 559, Stokes 183.

Jackson—This county, Madison, will give Senter 5,000 majority.

Trenton—Stokes 83, Senter 674.

Union City—Official—Senter 505, Stokes 28; Etheridge 58, Underwood 25. This county, Weakly, will give Senter 1,000 majority.

Hardeman county gives Senter 1,000 majority.

Grand Junction—Stokes, 107; Senter, 112.

Barlett—Stokes' majority 32.

Mason, Tipton county—Stokes, 246; Senter, 85.

Covington town gives Senter 310; Stokes 19.

Brownington—Senter, 400; Stokes, 563.

This county, Haywood, gives Senter about 200 majority. Slaughter, Democrat, is elected to the Senate, and Clark, Democrat, to the Legislature.

Madison, Jackson precinct, gives Stokes 422; Senter 785.

D. H. King, Conservative, is elected to the Legislature.

Trenton—Senter, 678; Stokes, 83.

Gibson county will give Senter from 3,500 to 4,000 majority.

Paris—Senter, 409; Stokes, 65.

Hardeman—Further returns indicate that Senter's majority will reach 1,000.

The following is the official vote of the city: Senter 5,138; Stokes, 2,070. Senter's majority, 3,068.

The Democrats are rejoicing to-night over the victory in West Tennessee. The entire Democratic legislative ticket is elected.

FOREIGN.

Terrible Disaster in the Trani Cathedral.

Sixteen Persons Trampled to Death.

Von Boust Can't Assure the Peace of Europe.

ITALY.

TERREBLE CHURCH DISASTER. FLORENCE, Aug. 5.—At the celebration of a great festival in the Cathedral of Trani, Sicily, the disaster occurred. The church was crowded at the time. The congregation was seized with a panic and a rush made for the doors. In the confusion sixteen persons were trampled to death and a large number badly bruised. The fire was easily extinguished before any considerable damage was done.

AUSTRIA.

PETITION DENIED. PESTH, Aug. 5.—Emperor Francis Joseph has declined to grant the petition of the wife of Prince Karolyewitch for the pardon of her husband, accused of assassinating the late Prince of Serbia, and has ordered that his case be dealt with by the ordinary tribunals.

VIENNA, August 5.—During the discussion of war estimates in the Reichsrath, Baron Von Boust, said it was hazardous to promise to maintain peace for a considerable length of time, and he expressed the opinion that if no war occurred during the next four years, the preservation of the peace of Europe for a longer period beyond was certain.

IRELAND.

GENERAL SYND OF THE IRISH CHURCH. DUBLIN, August 5.—The Irish bishops in conference have resolved that a General Synod, in which the laity as well as the clergy are to be represented, shall assemble at an early day. They have also decided to convene the Provincial Synods to consider the local changes necessary to be made in the church under present circumstances.

FRANCE.

THE LAST OF PERSONAL GOVERNMENT. PARIS, August 5.—It is reported that the Emperor will soon issue a manifesto announcing, as the last act of his personal government, a reduction of certain taxes and the extension of the educational system of France.

ENGLAND.

THE HARVARD CREW. LONDON, August 5.—The Harvard crew has been rearranged as follows: Lovell, stroke; Sumner, bow; Rice and Bass, oars; their speed has improved, and in their practice yesterday they made from 37 to 40 strokes per minute.

THE CHICAGO CONSULSHIP. LONDON, (Midnight) Aug. 5.—In the House of Commons to-night Mr. Otway, in reply to a question from Mr. Browning, said in consequence of a recommendation of the official committee the government had declined to fill the vacancy in the British Consulate at Chicago.

THE HUDSON RAY TRANSFER. Mr. Stanfield moved a second reading of the Canadian bill which proposed to guarantee a loan of $300,000 for the purchase of the territory and rights of the Hudson company.

Mr. Stanfield stated that in order to facilitate the adjustment of this question, which was of considerable importance in respect to relations with England and America to promote the settlement of the territory, Her Majesty's Government had taken, in accordance with the pledges it had given, to propose this guarantee to the House.

Mr. Monck opposed the motion and moved the amendment that said reading be postponed three months.

Mr. Dalke seconded it. He hoped that the Government would lay down some clear and distinct policy with respect to colonial guarantees.

After some further discussion, an amendment to postpone a second reading was rejected by a vote of 65 to 10, and the bill was then read a second time.

THE ROYAL YACHT REGATTA. COWES, August 5.—To-day the third of the Royal Yacht Squadron Regatta races, for the trophy, and the trophy, took place. It was sailed over the Huttens course, fifty miles. Weather fine. Thirteen yachts started. The race was won by the cutter Arrow; seelooner Aline second.

SARATOGA.

Proceedings of the American Dental Association.

SARATOGA, August 5.—The American Dental Association consumed most of the morning session in discussing operative dentistry. Many members took part. Dr. C. Palmer, Warren, of Ohio, illustrated his remarks by diagrams of various shaped cavities, giving ideas as to cutting away and shaping them.

Three ballots were had on the election of a place for the next meeting, and Nashville, Tenn., was finally decided upon. The vote was: Nashville, 59; Newport, 17; St. Louis, 10.

In the evening session the report of the committee to revise the constitution was laid on the table.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Horner Judd, of St. Louis, President; S. J. Cobb, of Nashville, First Vice President; C. E. Francis, of New York, Second Vice President; J. A. Solmen, of Boston, Corresponding Secretary; M. S. Dean, of Chicago, Recording Secretary; W. H. Goddard, of Louisville, Treasurer.

NORTH CAROLINA.

Exciting Legislative Contest—City Railway in Wilmington.

WILMINGTON, N. C., Aug. 5.—The election to fill the vacancy in the Legislature passed off without disturbance to-day. No reliable returns have been received, but it is generally believed that Eagles is elected by several hundred majority, in a poll of about 5,000 votes. There were two Republican candidates in the field. The Eagles faction was led by white men from the Northern States living here, and represents what is known here as more extreme Republicans. Larkins, moderate Republican, was supported by conservative whites.

So important that the county was canvassed by Gen. Abbott, U. S. Senator, in behalf of the Eagles faction. The election excited an unusual interest. The contest was hard and close, and polled about half their strength for Larkins.

Cannamended running on the city railway to-day.

MISSISSIPPI.

Address to the People of the State—Nominating Convention Called.

JACKSON, Miss., August 5.—The Clarion to-day publishes an address to the people of Mississippi signed by 136 gentlemen of the old Whig and Democratic school, and representing every county in the State. They advise the people to support the National Union Republican party and vote for the ticket they present, being assured that it will be composed of gentlemen actuated by conservative and patriotic principles, taking Virginia as their example in the coming contest, and assuring the people that this party maintains the views of President Grant and the Congressional plan of reconstruction.

The National Union Republican party have called a nominating convention, to assemble on the 8th of September, in this city.

CINCINNATI.

National Tobacco Association—The Great Exposition—Wool Growers and Wool Manufacturers—The Southern Manufacturers, &c.

CINCINNATI, August 5.—The National Tobacco Association organized to-day, adopting a constitution and by-laws. Individuals and firms may be admitted upon payment of $25. The following officers were elected: Wm. E. Lawrence, of New York, President; J. B. Frazier, of Richmond, Virginia, Vice President; Joseph Hall, of New York, Treasurer. The president was authorized to appoint an executive committee. The association will appoint a financial agent for each State upon its return to New York city.

The attendance at the exposition of textile fabrics increased greatly to-day. It would have run a week with profit. Great multitudes poured in a steady stream through the building all day. Premiums will be awarded to-morrow, after which the sale of goods commences at 11 o'clock in the forenoon. Two days will be required to close out.

A special meeting of the Wool Growers and Wool Manufacturers' Association of the North-west was held at the exhibition rooms at 9 o'clock this morning. In the absence of George S. Bowen, Esq., the President of the Association, John G. Gross, of Ohio, one of the Vice Presidents, took the chair, and called the meeting to order.

Resolved, That the interests of wool-growers and manufacturers of the United States are identical. It is right and highly proper that they should cultivate more friendly relations, and to that end should attend our expositions more frequently.

Resolved, That as members of this Association from abroad, and as visitors and exhibitors, they should be treated with the same respect and consideration as the exhibitors of the fair.

Resolved, That we are opposed to a renewal of what is known as the Canadian reciprocity treaty.

Resolved, That, as the interests of wool-growers and manufacturers of the United States are identical, it is right and highly proper that they should cultivate more friendly relations, and to that end should attend our expositions more frequently.

Resolved, That as members of this Association from abroad, and as visitors and exhibitors, they should be treated with the same respect and consideration as the exhibitors of the fair.

Resolved, That we are opposed to a renewal of what is known as the Canadian reciprocity treaty.

Resolved, That, as the interests of wool-growers and manufacturers of the United States are identical, it is right and highly proper that they should cultivate more friendly relations, and to that end should attend our expositions more frequently.

Resolved, That as members of this Association from abroad, and as visitors and exhibitors, they should be treated with the same respect and consideration as the exhibitors of the fair.

Resolved, That we are opposed to a renewal of what is known as the Canadian reciprocity treaty.

Resolved, That, as the interests of wool-growers and manufacturers of the United States are identical, it is right and highly proper that they should cultivate more friendly relations, and to that end should attend our expositions more frequently.

Resolved, That as members of this Association from abroad, and as visitors and exhibitors, they should be treated with the same respect and consideration as the exhibitors of the fair.

Resolved, That we are opposed to a renewal of what is known as the Canadian reciprocity treaty.

Resolved, That, as the interests of wool-growers and manufacturers of the United States are identical, it is right and highly proper that they should cultivate more friendly relations, and to that end should attend our expositions more frequently.

Resolved, That as members of this Association from abroad, and as visitors and exhibitors, they should be treated with the same respect and consideration as the exhibitors of the fair.

Resolved, That we are opposed to a renewal of what is known as the Canadian reciprocity treaty.

Resolved, That, as the interests of wool-growers and manufacturers of the United States are identical, it is right and highly proper that they should cultivate more friendly relations, and to that end should attend our expositions more frequently.

Resolved, That as members of this Association from abroad, and as visitors and exhibitors, they should be treated with the same respect and consideration as the exhibitors of the fair.

Resolved, That we are opposed to a renewal of what is known as the Canadian reciprocity treaty.

Resolved, That, as the interests of wool-growers and manufacturers of the United States are identical, it is right and highly proper that they should cultivate more friendly relations, and to that end should attend our expositions more frequently.

Resolved, That as members of this Association from abroad, and as visitors and exhibitors, they should be treated with the same respect and consideration as the exhibitors of the fair.

Resolved, That we are opposed to a renewal of what is known as the Canadian reciprocity treaty.

Resolved, That, as the interests of wool-growers and manufacturers of the United States are identical, it is right and highly proper that they should cultivate more friendly relations, and to that end should attend our expositions more frequently.

Resolved, That as members of this Association from abroad, and as visitors and exhibitors, they should be treated with the same respect and consideration as the exhibitors of the fair.

Resolved, That we are opposed to a renewal of what is known as the Canadian reciprocity treaty.

Resolved, That, as the interests of wool-growers and manufacturers of the United States are identical, it is right and highly proper that they should cultivate more friendly relations, and to that end should attend our expositions more frequently.

Resolved, That as members of this Association from abroad, and as visitors and exhibitors, they should be treated with the same respect and consideration as the exhibitors of the fair.

Resolved, That we are opposed to a renewal of what is known as the Canadian reciprocity treaty.

Resolved, That, as the interests of wool-growers and manufacturers of the United States are identical, it is right and highly proper that they should cultivate more friendly relations, and to that end should attend our expositions more frequently.

Resolved, That as members of this Association from abroad, and as visitors and exhibitors, they should be treated with the same respect and consideration as the exhibitors of the fair.

Resolved, That we are opposed to a renewal of what is known as the Canadian reciprocity treaty.

Resolved, That, as the interests of wool-growers and manufacturers of the United States are identical, it is right and highly proper that they should cultivate more friendly relations, and to that end should attend our expositions more frequently.

Resolved, That as members of this Association from abroad, and as visitors and exhibitors, they should be treated with the same respect and consideration as the exhibitors of the fair.

Resolved, That we are opposed to a renewal of what is known as the Canadian reciprocity treaty.

Resolved, That, as the interests of wool-growers and manufacturers of the United States are identical, it is right and highly proper that they should cultivate more friendly relations, and to that end should attend our expositions more frequently.

Resolved, That as members of this Association from abroad, and as visitors and exhibitors, they should be treated with the same respect and consideration as the exhibitors of the fair.

Resolved, That we are opposed to a renewal of what is known as the Canadian reciprocity treaty.

Resolved, That, as the interests of wool-growers and manufacturers of the United States are identical, it is right and highly proper that they should cultivate more friendly relations, and to that end should attend our expositions more frequently.

Resolved, That as members of this Association from abroad, and as visitors and exhibitors, they should be treated with the same respect and consideration as the exhibitors of the fair.

Resolved, That we are opposed to a renewal of what is known as the Canadian reciprocity treaty.

Resolved, That, as the interests of wool-growers and manufacturers of the United States are identical, it is right and highly proper that they should cultivate more friendly relations, and to that end should attend our expositions more frequently.

Resolved, That as members of this Association from abroad, and as visitors and exhibitors, they should be treated with the same respect and consideration as the exhibitors of the fair.

Resolved, That we are opposed to a renewal of what is known as the Canadian reciprocity treaty.

Resolved, That, as the interests of wool-growers and manufacturers of the United States are identical, it is right and highly proper that they should cultivate more friendly relations, and to that end should attend our expositions more frequently.

Resolved, That as members of this Association from abroad, and as visitors and exhibitors, they should be treated with the same respect and consideration as the exhibitors of the fair.

Resolved, That we are opposed to a renewal of what is known as the Canadian reciprocity treaty.

Resolved, That, as the interests of wool-growers and manufacturers of the United States are identical, it is right and highly proper that they should cultivate more friendly relations, and to that end should attend our expositions more frequently.

Resolved, That as members of this Association from abroad, and as visitors and exhibitors, they should be treated with the same respect and consideration as the exhibitors of the fair.

Resolved, That we are opposed to a renewal of what is known as the Canadian reciprocity treaty.

Resolved, That, as the interests of wool-growers and manufacturers of the United States are identical, it is right and highly proper that they should cultivate more friendly relations, and to that end should attend our expositions more frequently.

Resolved, That as members of this Association from abroad, and as visitors and exhibitors, they should be treated with the same respect and consideration as the exhibitors of the fair.

Resolved, That we are opposed to a renewal of what is known as the Canadian reciprocity treaty.

Resolved, That, as the interests of wool-growers and manufacturers of the United States are identical, it is right and highly proper that they should cultivate more friendly relations, and to that end should attend our expositions more frequently.

Resolved, That as members of this Association from abroad, and as visitors and exhibitors, they should be treated with the same respect and consideration as the exhibitors of the fair.

Resolved, That we are opposed to a renewal of what is known as the Canadian reciprocity treaty.

Resolved, That, as the interests of wool-growers and manufacturers of the United States are identical, it is right and highly proper that they should cultivate more friendly relations, and to that end should attend our expositions more frequently.

Resolved, That as members of this Association from abroad, and as visitors and exhibitors, they should be treated with the same respect and consideration as the exhibitors of the fair.

Resolved, That we are opposed to a renewal of what is known as the Canadian reciprocity treaty.

Resolved, That, as the interests of wool-growers and manufacturers of the United States are identical, it is right and highly proper that they should cultivate more friendly relations, and to that end should attend our expositions more frequently.

Resolved, That as members of this Association from abroad, and as visitors and exhibitors, they should be treated with the same respect and consideration as the exhibitors of the fair.

Resolved, That we are opposed to a renewal of what is known as the Canadian reciprocity treaty.

Resolved, That, as the interests of wool-growers and manufacturers of the United States are identical, it is right and highly proper that they should cultivate more friendly relations, and to that end should attend our expositions more frequently.

Resolved, That as members of this Association from abroad, and as visitors and exhibitors, they should be treated with the same respect and consideration as the exhibitors of the fair.

Resolved, That we are opposed to a renewal of what is known as the Canadian reciprocity treaty.

Resolved, That, as the interests of wool-growers and manufacturers of the United States are identical, it is right and highly proper that they should cultivate more friendly relations, and to that end should attend our expositions more frequently.

Resolved, That as members of this Association from abroad, and as visitors and exhibitors, they should be treated with the same respect and consideration as the exhibitors of the fair.

Resolved, That we are opposed to a renewal of what is known as the Canadian reciprocity treaty.

CUBA.

Affairs about Principe—Fighting by Jordan's Command—Capt. of a Cuban Private Party—A Decisive Engagement Imminent.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—Advices from Cuba to their friends in this city to the 25th ult, state from General Quesada, that the communication between the coast and Puerto Principe, and that the inhabitants of that city are completely at the mercy of the volunteer soldiers, who are committing every description of outrage in the city and country adjacent, and it is now almost impossible to obtain supplies, and the suffering of the people is represented as very great.

Fighting is reported from several points in Gen. Jordan's department, where the Spanish troops have been reinforced by two regiments of volunteers, and a battalion of regulars from Havana. Near Santiago de Cuba the Cubans were attacked by a superior force of Spaniards, and at first were driven to their position with some loss, but they were rallied and reinforced by troops from Gen. Figuer's command, regained their position and compelled the Spanish troops to retire.

It is reported that a small foraging party of Cubans were captured near Remedios and another party near Sagua la Grande. The Cuban troops, it is reported, continued to be free from disease and in excellent spirits. The commanders are moving to take advantage of the present demoralized condition of the Spanish forces.

The letters containing the above state that twenty days' decisive action will give the Cubans control of the affairs of that portion of the island.

KENTUCKY ELECTION.

ADDITIONAL RETURNS.

BARREN COUNTY—OFFICIAL. Treasurer—Tate, 899; Wing, 234. Tate's majority, 665. Legislature—Lewis, 1,030; Richardson, 340. Lewis' majority, 690.

AGNES COUNTY—OFFICIAL. For School Tax, 436; against school tax, 323.

SHELBY COUNTY. Treasurer—Tate, 1,418; Wing, 112. Senator—Meriwether, 1,040; Johnson, 622. Representative—Sanders, 510; Wright, 493. For School Tax, 436; against school tax, 323.

HART COUNTY. Treasurer—Tate, 578; Wing, 133. Senator—Chitt, 706; Allen, 188. Representative—708; Sterrett, 257. McKinney, 32; Burch, 1. For School Tax, 794; against, 563.

NELSON COUNTY. Treasurer—Tate, 1,359; Wing, 50. Senator—Johnson, 1,164; Meriwether, 222. Representative—Hardin, Dem., 955; Stout, Dem., 454.

SPENCER COUNTY. Treasurer—Tate, 701; Wing, 102. Legislature—Bush, 606; Dawson, 755.

METCALFE COUNTY—COMPLET. Tate, 338; Wing,

THE LOUISVILLE EXPRESS.

Single line insertion, 100 words, 10 cents	100
Next five insertions, each, 10 cents	50
One month, 10 cents	10
Three months, 10 cents	30
Half page, 10 cents	10
Full page, 10 cents	10
Advertisements inserted every other day 25 per cent. additional.
Advertisements inserted at intervals 25 per cent. additional.
Double column advertisements, 25 per cent. additional.
All transient advertisements must be paid for in advance.
Transient advertisements, $1 per square for each insertion.
"Wants," "For Rent," "For Sale," etc., 25 cents for each insertion of five lines.
"Town Topics," 25 cents per line; Local, in black letter, 25 cents per line, and City Items 10 cents per line for each insertion.
Marriage and Death Notices, 10 cents each.
All bills due on first insertion, except for established business houses, with whom we have running accounts, payable on or in advance.

LOUISVILLE.
FRIDAY, AUGUST 6, 1893.

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

NEW YORK.

THE SPANISH MINISTER IN THE CITY.

He is awaiting instructions from Madrid.

The Gunboats Still Under Indictment.

The Builder of the Boats Very Anxious.

The Boats will not be Permitted to Leave.

Private Interview Between the President, Secretary Fish and Judge Pierpont.

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.

The President and family left on the Mary Powell yesterday for Garrison, where they are the guests of Sec. Fish.

The Spanish Minister is in the city; but his object has no direct connection with the seizure of the Spanish gunboats. He is awaiting instructions from Madrid.

The boats still remain under indictment, and more explicit instructions as to what is to be done with them will probably be received from Sec. Fish to-day.

Mr. Delamater, the contractor for building the gunboats, is anxious about the vessels, as they will cost him $550,000 in gold.

Marshall Bowler says that the boats will not be permitted to leave their present position until their character is changed or instructions received for their release.

NEW YORK, August 6.

A Knoxville dispatch to the Times says Senator is elected Governor of Tennessee by 60,000 majority.

It is stated that last evening Judge Pierpont, the President, and Secretary Fish, held a private interview, and resolved, owing to the lateness of the hour and the fact that the Judge had received from the Spanish authorities some Spanish correspondence which had not been translated, with reference to the late seizure, to postpone the conference until this morning at ten o'clock. It was stated by those interested that matters of the utmost importance will then be discussed, and that the conference will extend over several hours.

The tallies are confident of succeeding in their demand for increased wages. Nearly nine thousand are on the strike, and other labor organizations are making liberal appropriations for their support.

About a dozen clothing houses have adopted the new scale, and others promise next week. The strikers, thus far, have made no disturbance.

The owners and underwriters of the steamship United Kingdom have abandoned all hope of her safety, and are settling the accounts of shippers and consignees.

VIRGINIA.

The Sheriff of Norfolk and Negro Squatters.

The Sheriff Serves Writs of Ejectment.

The Negroes Defy his Authority

But offer him no Violence.

They say they Recognize no Civil Law.

RICHMOND, Va., August 5.

The Herald's special says Sheriff Mayhew and his deputy, Stevens, of Norfolk, paid a recent visit to Taylor's farm in that county, for the purpose of serving writs of ejectment on the negro squatters, that they went down in a buggy, and coming to the village, left the horse and vehicle in the road. They passed through different streets and avenues, leaving the notices in every house, and when they returned to their buggy they were astonished to find the buggy, horse and harness decorated all over with the notices they had just served. On inquiry into the cause of this, the negroes informed them that no attention would be paid to these notices; that the military would have to remove them. They offered no violence to the officers, but assured them that no civil law was recognized in that village. Thus the matter stands. Mr. Taylor is deprived of his property by the military, and to recover it is refused the civil law, which is powerless in the premises.

FRANKFORT.

Election Returns.

FRANKFORT, August 5.

Returns from twenty-seven counties in the State and Louisville give Tate 26,780, and Wing 4,665. In these counties Tate falls off from the Seymour vote 9,932, and Wing from the Grant vote 2,678.

The Democratic vote in the State will hardly exceed 85,000, and the Republican will probably fall below 25,000. Great apathy existed with regard to the election, and especially in the mountains.

In twenty-five counties and Louisville the school tax is behind only eleven votes. It is thought it will have from 10,000 to 20,000 majority in the State.

Colonel Silas Adams, Republican, is elected from Casey and Russell—a Republican gain.

NEW MEXICO.

Continued Indian Depredations—The Weather and Crops.

Special to the Clin. Commercial.

SANTA FE, Aug. 5.

We have accounts of an attack upon a party of miners, on the way to Apache Pass, by a body of Indians, who captured the wagon and supplies. The men escaped under cover of the darkness. Two of them reached the Pass in safety, and one died on the road of thirst and fatigue.

A party of twenty men, well armed and equipped for prospecting, have left Rio Arriba for San Juan county. The Utah Indians, who have heretofore protested against any prospecting party coming into the country, consented to this one passing through, but positively refused to allow the location of claims.

Indians, supposed to be Navajos, have been, for the last two weeks, committing extensive depredations at Barranco, Chama, Abiquia, Copia, and other points in Rio Arriba. Two parties of citizens are now in pursuit.

WASHINGTON.

Council of Liquor Dealers.

WASHINGTON, August 5.

At a meeting of the Liquor Dealers' Association, held here yesterday, the question of holding a national convention of liquor dealers in this city during the fall or winter, was again under discussion, but definite action was postponed until the next meeting.

The result of the correspondence with associations in New York, Philadelphia, Boston, Chicago, Cincinnati, and other large cities, will be laid before the association for consideration.

CUBA.

Spanish Accounts of the Attack on Puerto Principe.

NEW YORK, August 6.

Late Havana letters give from a Spanish standpoint the rebel assault on Puerto Principe and the results. At the latest mail advices the ill fortune of the insurgents continued. The forces of Jordon, Marmal, Marican, and Figueroa, having attacked simultaneously the Spanish detachment on the estate of La Cruz Santa, San Jose, and Santa Isabel, as also those of the Pinar del Rio village, were driven back at all points.

GEORGIA.

Duel—One Killed and the Other Seriously Wounded.

ATLANTA, Ga., August 5.

A report has been received from Edgefield, S. C., that Charles and J. D. Creswell, who left the city yesterday, it was supposed to engage in a duel, met near Edgfield this morning, and fought with pistols. The former was instantly killed, and the latter is seriously if not mortally wounded. The affair was entirely of a private nature, and is alleged to have grown out of family troubles.

INTERNAL REVENUE.

July Collections—Fifth Kentucky District.

DEER STAMPS BOUGHT IN JULY, 1893.

John G. Bauer, $105.00

John G. Bauer, $105.00

John G. Bauer, $105.00

John G. Bauer, $105.00

John G. Bauer, $105.00

John G. Bauer, $105.00

John G. Bauer, $105.00

John G. Bauer, $105.00

John G. Bauer, $105.00

John G. Bauer, $105.00

John G. Bauer, $105.00

John G. Bauer, $105.00

John G. Bauer, $105.00

John G. Bauer, $105.00

John G. Bauer, $105.00

John G. Bauer, $105.00

John G. Bauer, $105.00

John G. Bauer, $105.00

John G. Bauer, $105.00

John G. Bauer, $105.00

John G. Bauer, $105.00

John G. Bauer, $105.00

John G. Bauer, $105.00

John G. Bauer, $105.00

John G. Bauer, $105.00

John G. Bauer, $105.00

John G. Bauer, $105.00

John G. Bauer, $105.00

John G. Bauer, $105.00

John G. Bauer, $105.00

John G. Bauer, $105.00

John G. Bauer, $105.00

John G. Bauer, $105.00

John G. Bauer, $105.00

John G. Bauer, $105.00

John G. Bauer, $105.00

John G. Bauer, $105.00

John G. Bauer, $105.00

John G. Bauer, $105.00

John G. Bauer, $105.00

John G. Bauer, $105.00

John G. Bauer, $105.00

John G. Bauer, $105.00

John G. Bauer, $105.00

John G. Bauer, $105.00

John G. Bauer, $105.00

John G. Bauer, $105.00

John G. Bauer, $105.00

John G. Bauer, $105.00

From the Frankfort Commonwealth.

JUDGE LYCH.

He Excuses the Deeds he has Committed—Plea in Defense—Threats in Advance.

August 2, 1893.

Editor Frankfort Commonwealth:

We have been privileged to read in your last number some, to you, Mr. Editor, we suppose dreadful accounts of thirty-two men being hung by you. You have only one side of the picture. Though they call us blood-thirsty, murderers and marauders, did they tell you what brought all this about? Sir, robbers, thieves, swindlers and murderers did it, and have compelled us to act. This is no political scheme. Democrats and Republicans alike are engaged in it. There are some persons, though, that are trying to get up an excitement in order that they may be the more secure in committing some of their black and fiendish deeds. Do these good and sympathetic men who cry and tell you of the murder of poor old Mrs. Bottoms, mangled and murdered in her own house? Then the hanging commenced. Did they tell of the many others that have been committed in Central Kentucky? Robbers, thieves, murderers and swindlers have been hung and more will have to be, Mr. Editor. These sympathetic men that are trying to fire your and other hearts to sympathy are inviting more house-rocks and robbers into our part of the State than the civil law can ever overcome, and whom Lynch will have to hang. We have been robbed. We have had some of our best friends murdered. We applied to the civil authorities for redress. These fiendish devils brought in their train of lying witnesses and proved themselves clear in open court, and were turned loose. Robbers, thieves, murderers and swindlers have been hung and more will have to be, Mr. Editor. These sympathetic men that are trying to fire your and other hearts to sympathy are inviting more house-rocks and robbers into our part of the State than the civil law can ever overcome, and whom Lynch will have to hang. We have been robbed. We have had some of our best friends murdered. We applied to the civil authorities for redress. These fiendish devils brought in their train of lying witnesses and proved themselves clear in open court, and were turned loose. Robbers, thieves, murderers and swindlers have been hung and more will have to be, Mr. Editor. These sympathetic men that are trying to fire your and other hearts to sympathy are inviting more house-rocks and robbers into our part of the State than the civil law can ever overcome, and whom Lynch will have to hang. We have been robbed. We have had some of our best friends murdered. We applied to the civil authorities for redress. These fiendish devils brought in their train of lying witnesses and proved themselves clear in open court, and were turned loose. Robbers, thieves, murderers and swindlers have been hung and more will have to be, Mr. Editor. These sympathetic men that are trying to fire your and other hearts to sympathy are inviting more house-rocks and robbers into our part of the State than the civil law can ever overcome, and whom Lynch will have to hang. We have been robbed. We have had some of our best friends murdered. We applied to the civil authorities for redress. These fiendish devils brought in their train of lying witnesses and proved themselves clear in open court, and were turned loose. Robbers, thieves, murderers and swindlers have been hung and more will have to be, Mr. Editor. These sympathetic men that are trying to fire your and other hearts to sympathy are inviting more house-rocks and robbers into our part of the State than the civil law can ever overcome, and whom Lynch will have to hang. We have been robbed. We have had some of our best friends murdered. We applied to the civil authorities for redress. These fiendish devils brought in their train of lying witnesses and proved themselves clear in open court, and were turned loose. Robbers, thieves, murderers and swindlers have been hung and more will have to be, Mr. Editor. These sympathetic men that are trying to fire your and other hearts to sympathy are inviting more house-rocks and robbers into our part of the State than the civil law can ever overcome, and whom Lynch will have to hang. We have been robbed. We have had some of our best friends murdered. We applied to the civil authorities for redress. These fiendish devils brought in their train of lying witnesses and proved themselves clear in open court, and were turned loose. Robbers, thieves, murderers and swindlers have been hung and more will have to be, Mr. Editor. These sympathetic men that are trying to fire your and other hearts to sympathy are inviting more house-rocks and robbers into our part of the State than the civil law can ever overcome, and whom Lynch will have to hang. We have been robbed. We have had some of our best friends murdered. We applied to the civil authorities for redress. These fiendish devils brought in their train of lying witnesses and proved themselves clear in open court, and were turned loose. Robbers, thieves, murderers and swindlers have been hung and more will have to be, Mr. Editor. These sympathetic men that are trying to fire your and other hearts to sympathy are inviting more house-rocks and robbers into our part of the State than the civil law can ever overcome, and whom Lynch will have to hang. We have been robbed. We have had some of our best friends murdered. We applied to the civil authorities for redress. These fiendish devils brought in their train of lying witnesses and proved themselves clear in open court, and were turned loose. Robbers, thieves, murderers and swindlers have been hung and more will have to be, Mr. Editor. These sympathetic men that are trying to fire your and other hearts to sympathy are inviting more house-rocks and robbers into our part of the State than the civil law can ever overcome, and whom Lynch will have to hang. We have been robbed. We have had some of our best friends murdered. We applied to the civil authorities for redress. These fiendish devils brought in their train of lying witnesses and proved themselves clear in open court, and were turned loose. Robbers, thieves, murderers and swindlers have been hung and more will have to be, Mr. Editor. These sympathetic men that are trying to fire your and other hearts to sympathy are inviting more house-rocks and robbers into our part of the State than the civil law can ever overcome, and whom Lynch will have to hang. We have been robbed. We have had some of our best friends murdered. We applied to the civil authorities for redress. These fiendish devils brought in their train of lying witnesses and proved themselves clear in open court, and were turned loose. Robbers, thieves, murderers and swindlers have been hung and more will have to be, Mr. Editor. These sympathetic men that are trying to fire your and other hearts to sympathy are inviting more house-rocks and robbers into our part of the State than the civil law can ever overcome, and whom Lynch will have to hang. We have been robbed. We have had some of our best friends murdered. We applied to the civil authorities for redress. These fiendish devils brought in their train of lying witnesses and proved themselves clear in open court, and were turned loose. Robbers, thieves, murderers and swindlers have been hung and more will have to be, Mr. Editor. These sympathetic men that are trying to fire your and other hearts to sympathy are inviting more house-rocks and robbers into our part of the State than the civil law can ever overcome, and whom Lynch will have to hang. We have been robbed. We have had some of our best friends murdered. We applied to the civil authorities for redress. These fiendish devils brought in their train of lying witnesses and proved themselves clear in open court, and were turned loose. Robbers, thieves, murderers and swindlers have been hung and more will have to be, Mr. Editor. These sympathetic men that are trying to fire your and other hearts to sympathy are inviting more house-rocks and robbers into our part of the State than the civil law can ever overcome, and whom Lynch will have to hang. We have been robbed. We have had some of our best friends murdered. We applied to the civil authorities for redress. These fiendish devils brought in their train of lying witnesses and proved themselves clear in open court, and were turned loose. Robbers, thieves, murderers and swindlers have been hung and more will have to be, Mr. Editor. These sympathetic men that are trying to fire your and other hearts to sympathy are inviting more house-rocks and robbers into our part of the State than the civil law can ever overcome, and whom Lynch will have to hang. We have been robbed. We have had some of our best friends murdered. We applied to the civil authorities for redress. These fiendish devils brought in their train of lying witnesses and proved themselves clear in open court, and were turned loose. Robbers, thieves, murderers and swindlers have been hung and more will have to be, Mr. Editor. These sympathetic men that are trying to fire your and other hearts to sympathy are inviting more house-rocks and robbers into our part of the State than the civil law can ever overcome, and whom Lynch will have to hang. We have been robbed. We have had some of our best friends murdered. We applied to the civil authorities for redress. These fiendish devils brought in their train of lying witnesses and proved themselves clear in open court, and were turned loose. Robbers, thieves, murderers and swindlers have been hung and more will have to be, Mr. Editor. These sympathetic men that are trying to fire your and other hearts to sympathy are inviting more house-rocks and robbers into our part of the State than the civil law can ever overcome, and whom Lynch will have to hang. We have been robbed. We have had some of our best friends murdered. We applied to the civil authorities for redress. These fiendish devils brought in their train of lying witnesses and proved themselves clear in open court, and were turned loose. Robbers, thieves, murderers and swindlers have been hung and more will have to be, Mr. Editor. These sympathetic men that are trying to fire your and other hearts to sympathy are inviting more house-rocks and robbers into our part of the State than the civil law can ever overcome, and whom Lynch will have to hang. We have been robbed. We have had some of our best friends murdered. We applied to the civil authorities for redress. These fiendish devils brought in their train of lying witnesses and proved themselves clear in open court, and were turned loose. Robbers, thieves, murderers and swindlers have been hung and more will have to be, Mr. Editor. These sympathetic men that are trying to fire your and other hearts to sympathy are inviting more house-rocks and robbers into our part of the State than the civil law can ever overcome, and whom Lynch will have to hang. We have been robbed. We have had some of our best friends murdered. We applied to the civil authorities for redress. These fiendish devils brought in their train of lying witnesses and proved themselves clear in open court, and were turned loose. Robbers, thieves, murderers and swindlers have been hung and more will have to be, Mr. Editor. These sympathetic men that are trying to fire your and other hearts to sympathy are inviting more house-rocks and robbers into our part of the State than the civil law can ever overcome, and whom Lynch will have to hang. We have been robbed. We have had some of our best friends murdered. We applied to the civil authorities for redress. These fiendish devils brought in their train of lying witnesses and proved themselves clear in open court, and were turned loose. Robbers, thieves, murderers and swindlers have been hung and more will have to be, Mr. Editor. These sympathetic men that are trying to fire your and other hearts to sympathy are inviting more house-rocks and robbers into our part of the State than the civil law can ever overcome, and whom Lynch will have to hang. We have been robbed. We have had some of our best friends murdered. We applied to the civil authorities for redress. These fiendish devils brought in their train of lying witnesses and proved themselves clear in open court, and were turned loose. Robbers, thieves, murderers and swindlers have been hung and more will have to be, Mr. Editor. These sympathetic men that are trying to fire your and other hearts to sympathy are inviting more house-rocks and robbers into our part of the State than the civil law can ever overcome, and whom Lynch will have to hang. We have been robbed. We have had some of our best friends murdered. We applied to the civil authorities for redress. These fiendish devils brought in their train of lying witnesses and proved themselves clear in open court, and were turned loose. Robbers, thieves, murderers and swindlers have been hung and more will have to be, Mr. Editor. These sympathetic men that are trying to fire your and other hearts to sympathy are inviting more house-rocks and robbers into our part of the State than the civil law can ever overcome, and whom Lynch will have to hang. We have been robbed. We have had some of our best friends murdered. We applied to the civil authorities for redress. These fiendish devils brought in their train of lying witnesses and proved themselves clear in open court, and were turned loose. Robbers, thieves, murderers and swindlers have been hung and more will have to be, Mr. Editor. These sympathetic men that are trying to fire your and other hearts to sympathy are inviting more house-rocks and robbers into our part of the State than the civil law can ever overcome, and whom Lynch will have to hang. We have been robbed. We have had some of our best friends murdered. We applied to the civil authorities for redress. These fiendish devils brought in their train of lying witnesses and proved themselves clear in open court, and were turned loose. Robbers, thieves, murderers and swindlers have been hung and more will have to be, Mr. Editor. These sympathetic men that are trying to fire your and other hearts to sympathy are inviting more house-rocks and robbers into our part of the State than the civil law can ever overcome, and whom Lynch will have to hang. We have been robbed. We have had some of our best friends murdered. We applied to the civil authorities for redress. These fiendish devils brought in their train of lying witnesses and proved themselves clear in open court, and were turned loose. Robbers, thieves, murderers and swindlers have been hung and more will have to be, Mr. Editor. These sympathetic men that are trying to fire your and other hearts to sympathy are inviting more house-rocks and robbers into our part of the State than the civil law can ever overcome, and whom Lynch will have to hang. We have been robbed. We have had some of our best friends murdered. We applied to the civil authorities for redress. These fiendish devils brought in their train of lying witnesses and proved themselves clear in open court, and were turned loose. Robbers, thieves, murderers and swindlers have been hung and more will have to be, Mr. Editor. These sympathetic men that are trying to fire your and other hearts to sympathy are inviting more house-rocks and robbers into our part of the State than the civil law can ever overcome, and whom Lynch will have to hang. We have been robbed. We have had some of our best friends murdered. We applied to the civil authorities for redress. These fiendish devils brought in their train of lying witnesses and proved themselves clear in open court, and were turned loose. Robbers, thieves, murderers and swindlers have been hung and more will have to be, Mr. Editor. These sympathetic men that are trying to fire your and other hearts to sympathy are inviting more house-rocks and robbers into our part of the State than the civil law can ever overcome, and whom Lynch will have to hang. We have been robbed. We have had some of our best friends murdered. We applied to the civil authorities for redress. These fiendish devils brought in their train of lying witnesses and proved themselves clear in open court, and were turned loose. Robbers, thieves, murderers and swindlers have been hung and more will have to be, Mr. Editor. These sympathetic men that are trying to fire your and other hearts to sympathy are inviting more house-rocks and robbers into our part of the State than the civil law can ever overcome, and whom Lynch will have to hang. We have been robbed. We have had some of our best friends murdered. We applied to the civil authorities for redress. These fiendish devils brought in their train of lying witnesses and proved themselves clear in open court, and were turned loose. Robbers, thieves, murderers and swindlers have been hung and more will have to be, Mr. Editor. These sympathetic men that are trying to fire your and other hearts to sympathy are inviting more house-rocks and robbers into our part of the State than the civil law can ever overcome, and whom Lynch will have to hang. We have been robbed. We have had some of our best friends murdered. We applied to the civil authorities for redress. These fiendish devils brought in their train of lying witnesses and proved themselves clear in open court, and were turned loose. Robbers, thieves, murderers and swindlers have been hung and more will have to be, Mr. Editor. These sympathetic men that are trying to fire your and other hearts to sympathy are inviting more house-rocks and robbers into our part of the State than the civil law can ever overcome, and whom Lynch will have to hang. We have been robbed. We have had some of our best friends murdered. We applied to the civil authorities for redress. These fiendish devils brought in their train of lying witnesses and proved themselves clear in open court, and were turned loose. Robbers, thieves, murderers and swindlers have been hung and more will have to be, Mr. Editor. These sympathetic men that are trying to fire your and other hearts to sympathy are inviting more house-rocks and robbers into our part of the State than the civil law can ever overcome, and whom Lynch will have to hang. We have been robbed. We have had some of our best friends murdered. We applied to the civil authorities for redress. These fiendish devils brought in their train of lying witnesses and proved themselves clear in open court, and were turned loose. Robbers, thieves, murderers and swindlers have been hung and more will have to be, Mr. Editor. These sympathetic men that are trying to fire your and other hearts to sympathy are inviting more house-rocks and robbers into our part of the State than the civil law can ever overcome, and whom Lynch will have to hang. We have been robbed. We have had some of our best friends murdered. We applied to the civil authorities for redress. These fiendish devils brought in their train of lying witnesses and proved themselves clear in open court, and were turned loose. Robbers, thieves, murderers and swindlers have been hung and more will have to be, Mr. Editor. These sympathetic men that are trying to fire your and other hearts to sympathy are inviting more house-rocks and robbers into our part of the State than the civil law can ever overcome, and whom Lynch will have to hang. We have been robbed. We have had some of our best friends murdered. We applied to the civil authorities for redress. These fiendish devils brought in their train of lying witnesses and proved themselves clear in open court, and were turned loose. Robbers, thieves, murderers and swindlers have been hung and more will have to be, Mr. Editor. These sympathetic men that are trying to fire your and other hearts to sympathy are inviting more house-rocks and robbers into our part of the State than the civil law can ever overcome, and whom Lynch will have to hang. We have been robbed. We have had some of our best friends murdered. We applied to the civil authorities for redress. These fiendish devils brought in their train of lying witnesses and proved themselves clear in open court, and were turned loose. Robbers, thieves, murderers and swindlers have been hung and more will have to be, Mr. Editor. These sympathetic men that are trying to fire your and other hearts to sympathy are inviting more house-rocks and robbers into our part of the State than the civil law can ever overcome, and whom Lynch will have to hang. We have been robbed. We have had some of our best friends murdered. We applied to the civil authorities for redress. These fiendish devils brought in their train of lying witnesses and proved themselves clear in open court, and were turned loose. Robbers, thieves, murderers and swindlers have been hung and more will have to be, Mr. Editor. These sympathetic men that are trying to fire your and other hearts to sympathy are inviting more house-rocks and robbers into our part of the State than the civil law can ever overcome, and whom Lynch will have to hang. We have been robbed. We have had some of our best friends murdered. We applied to the civil authorities for redress. These fiendish devils brought in their train of lying witnesses and proved themselves clear in open court, and were turned loose. Robbers, thieves, murderers and swindlers have been hung and more will have to be, Mr. Editor. These sympathetic men that are trying to fire your and other hearts to sympathy are inviting more house-rocks and robbers into our part of the State than the civil law can ever overcome, and whom Lynch will have to hang. We have been robbed. We have had some of our best friends murdered. We applied to the civil authorities for redress. These fiendish devils brought in their train of lying witnesses and proved themselves clear in open court, and were turned loose. Robbers, thieves, murderers and swindlers have been hung and more will have to be, Mr. Editor. These sympathetic men that are trying to fire your and other hearts to sympathy are inviting more house-rocks and robbers into our part of the State than the civil law can ever overcome, and whom Lynch will have to hang. We have been robbed. We have had some of our best friends murdered. We applied to the civil authorities for redress. These fiendish devils brought in their train of lying witnesses and proved themselves clear in open court, and were turned loose. Robbers, thieves, murderers and swindlers have been hung and more will have to be, Mr. Editor. These sympathetic men that are trying to fire your and other hearts to sympathy are inviting more house-rocks and robbers into our part of the State than the civil law can ever overcome, and whom Lynch will have to hang. We have been robbed. We have had some of our best friends murdered. We applied to the civil authorities for redress. These fiendish devils brought in their train of lying witnesses and proved themselves clear in open court, and were turned loose. Robbers, thieves, murderers and swindlers have been hung and more will have to be, Mr. Editor. These sympathetic men that are trying to fire your and other hearts to sympathy are inviting more house-rocks and robbers into our part of the State than the civil law can ever overcome, and whom Lynch will have to hang. We have been robbed. We have had some of our best friends murdered. We applied to the civil authorities for redress. These fiendish devils brought in their train of lying witnesses and proved themselves clear in open court, and were turned loose. Robbers, thieves, murderers and swindlers have been hung and more will have to be, Mr. Editor. These sympathetic men that are trying to fire your and other hearts to sympathy are inviting more house-rocks and robbers into our part of the State than the civil law can ever overcome, and whom Lynch will have to hang. We have been robbed. We have had some of our best friends murdered. We applied to the civil authorities for redress. These fiendish devils brought in their train of lying witnesses and proved themselves clear in open court, and were turned loose. Robbers, thieves, murderers and swindlers have been hung and more will have to be, Mr. Editor. These sympathetic men that are trying to fire your and other hearts to sympathy are inviting more house-rocks and robbers into our part of the State than the civil law can ever overcome, and whom Lynch will have to hang. We have been robbed. We have had some of our best friends murdered. We applied to the civil authorities for redress. These fiendish devils brought in their train of lying witnesses and proved themselves clear in open court, and were turned loose. Robbers, thieves, murderers and swindlers have been hung and more will have to be, Mr. Editor. These sympathetic men that are trying to fire your and other hearts to sympathy are inviting more house-rocks and robbers into our part of the State than the civil law can ever overcome, and whom Lynch will have to hang. We have been robbed. We have had some of our best friends murdered. We applied to the civil authorities for redress. These fiendish devils brought in their train of lying witnesses and proved themselves clear in open court, and were turned loose. Robbers, thieves, murderers and swindlers have been hung and more will have to be, Mr. Editor. These sympathetic men that are trying to fire your and other hearts to sympathy are inviting more house-rocks and robbers into our part of the State than the civil law can ever overcome, and whom Lynch will have to hang. We have been robbed. We have had some of our best friends murdered. We applied to the civil authorities for redress. These fiendish devils brought in their train of lying witnesses and proved themselves clear in open court, and were turned loose. Robbers, thieves, murderers and swindlers have been hung and more will have to be, Mr. Editor. These sympathetic men that are trying to fire your and other hearts to sympathy are inviting more house-rocks and robbers into our part of the State than the civil law can ever overcome, and whom Lynch will have to hang. We have been robbed. We have had some of our best friends murdered. We applied to the civil authorities for redress. These fiendish devils brought in their train of lying witnesses and proved themselves clear in open court, and were turned loose. Robbers, thieves, murderers and swindlers have been hung and more will have to be, Mr. Editor. These sympathetic men that are trying to fire your and other hearts to sympathy are inviting more house-rocks and robbers into our part of the State than the civil law can ever overcome, and whom Lynch will have to hang. We have been robbed. We have had some of our best friends murdered. We applied to the civil authorities for redress. These fiendish devils brought in their train of lying witnesses and proved themselves clear in open court, and were turned loose. Robbers, thieves, murderers and swindlers have been hung and more will have to be, Mr. Editor. These sympathetic men that are trying to fire your and other hearts to sympathy are inviting more house-rocks and robbers into our part of the State than the civil law can ever overcome, and whom Lynch will have to hang. We have been robbed. We have had some of our best friends murdered. We applied to the civil authorities for redress. These fiendish devils brought in their train of lying witnesses and proved themselves clear in open court, and were turned loose. Robbers, thieves, murderers and swindlers have been hung and more will have to be, Mr. Editor. These sympathetic men that are trying to fire your and other hearts to sympathy are inviting more house-rocks and robbers into our part of the State than the civil law can ever overcome, and whom Lynch will have to hang. We have been robbed. We have had some of our best friends murdered. We applied to the civil authorities for redress. These fiendish devils brought in their train of lying witnesses and proved themselves clear in open court, and were turned loose. Robbers, thieves, murderers and swindlers have been hung and more will have to be, Mr. Editor. These sympathetic men that are trying to fire your and other hearts to sympathy are inviting more house-rocks and robbers into our part of the State than the civil law can ever overcome, and whom Lynch will have to hang. We have been robbed. We have had some of our best friends murdered. We applied to the civil authorities for redress. These fiendish devils brought in their train of lying witnesses and proved themselves clear in open court, and were turned loose. Robbers, thieves, murderers and swindlers have been hung and more will have to be, Mr. Editor. These sympathetic men that are trying to fire your and other hearts to sympathy are inviting more house-rocks and robbers into our part of the State than the civil law can ever overcome, and whom Lynch will have to hang. We have been robbed. We have had some of our best friends murdered. We applied to the civil authorities for redress. These fiendish devils brought in their train of lying witnesses and proved themselves clear in open court, and were turned loose. Robbers, thieves, murderers and swindlers have been hung and more will have to be, Mr. Editor. These sympathetic men that are trying to fire your and other hearts to sympathy are inviting more house-rocks and robbers into our part of the State than the civil law can ever overcome, and whom Lynch will have to hang. We have been robbed. We have had some of our best friends murdered. We applied to the civil authorities for redress. These fiendish devils brought in their train of lying witnesses and proved themselves clear in open court, and were turned loose. Robbers, thieves, murderers and swindlers have been hung and more will have to be, Mr. Editor. These sympathetic men that are trying to fire your and other hearts to sympathy are inviting more house-rocks and robbers into our part of the State than the civil law can ever overcome, and whom Lynch will have to hang. We have been robbed. We have had some of our best friends murdered. We applied to the civil authorities for redress. These fiendish devils brought in their train of lying witnesses and proved themselves clear in open court, and were turned loose. Robbers, thieves, murderers and swindlers have been hung and more will have to be, Mr. Editor. These sympathetic men that are trying to fire your and other hearts to sympathy are inviting more house-rocks and robbers into our part of the State than the civil law can ever overcome, and whom Lynch will have to hang. We have been robbed. We have had some of our best friends murdered. We applied to